THREE MEN INDICTED

True Bills Returned in the Patent Office Case.

WILL BE ARRAIGNED FRIDAY

Forgery, Conspiracy, and Destruction of Public Records Contained in the Counts—Alleged that Barton and Co-defendants Appropriated the Ideas of Several Inventors.

Three additional indictments were returned yesterday by the grand jury against Ned W. Barton, former assistant examiner in the Patent Office; Henry E. Everding, lawyer, of Philadelphia, and John A. Heany, inventor, of York, Pa., in connection with patents relating to electric lighting.

All three men are at liberty on $10,000 bond each, furnished following the return of the indictments in February. They will be notified to appear here on Friday for arraignment.

The indictments charge forgery, conspiracy, and destruction of public records. In connection with an application for a patent for a process of making filaments. The conspiracy charge is in four counts.

Allege a Conspiracy.

It is charged that in August, 1905, with John A. Heany, the inventor, and Henry E. Everding, the latter's patent attorney, Barton unlawfully conspired and agreed with them and with each other to defraud the United States by means of an alleged dishonest scheme. This scheme, according to the indictment, was that the three men should falsely and fraudulently change and alter certain specifications and claims, and that Barton in his official capacity should do all in his power to procure the allowance by the principal examiner and the Commissioner of Patents on the altered specifications.

The indictment charging forgery is in ten counts and charges the forgery by all three of a letter dated March 23, 1906. It is claimed that Barton, acting in conjunction with the co-defendants, appropriated the ideas of several inventors and included them with an application made by Heany, with the result that patents were granted the royalty rights alone of which will be worth several million dollars.

Everding and Heany claim that they are the victims of a conspiracy.

JURY INDICTS MARTIN.

Former Real Estate Broker Alleged Embezzler.

An additional indictment was returned yesterday against Thomas R. Martin, former real estate broker, connected with Martin Bros., whose affairs are now in bankruptcy proceedings. The indictment charges him with embezzling $2,200 belonging to Mary A. Kopp. Martin is in a sanatorium near Baltimore.

The following indictments were also returned: George Best, larceny; Albert Butler, embezzlement; Eldridge A. Brady, murder, first degree; John H. Snowden, assault with dangerous weapon; Annie Williams, alias Williams-Brauns, alias Annie Poney, robbery; Thomas E. Jackson, assault with dangerous weapon; William Dorsey, housebreaking; Thomas E. Ricker, embezzlement; Edward M. Hobson, embezzlement; Andre Leo Lucas, receiving stolen property.

JURY HAS BEEN COMPLETED

Case of Hyde, Benson, Dimond, and Schneider to Go to Trial.

Petition in Habeas Corpus in the Case of Benson Denied by Justice Stafford.

A jury in the case of Frederick A. Hyde, John A. Benson, Henry P. Dimond, and Joseph H. Schneider, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government, was procured yesterday afternoon, but not until the special panel of twenty-five names was exhausted, and a special panel ordered by Justice Stafford had been summoned.

The panel of twenty-five became exhausted at the noon recess. Every deputy marshal was pressed into service to summon needed takersmen.

By 3:30 o'clock the jury was completed and sworn. They will be quartered at the National Hotel.

About 150 takersmen have been examined in all. Had not the jury been completed yesterday by 12 o'clock midnight, it would have been necessary to discharge the eleven men who have been in the box for three days, and begin anew the impaneling of a jury.

This situation of affairs was due to the fact that a term of court ended yesterday and a new one begins to-day.

When the jury had been sworn and left the courtroom, Judge Campbell, of San Francisco, counsel for John A. Benson, filed a habeas corpus petition with Justice Stafford. A representative of the bonding company, Mr. Benson's surety, formally surrendered him to the custody of the marshal.

Justice Stafford denied the petition. Appeal was taken. Justice Stafford then permitted Benson to renew his bond. He left the courthouse with his attorney.

Following is the jury selected: John J. Nolan, Edward H. Jett, Elmer H. Catlin, Charles P. Hart, Henry P. Elliott, Sterling J. Gardner, Alfred B. Dent, Bennett A. Fowler, Owen S. Lacey, Louis A. Everett, Joseph Garuch, and Frank W. Ross. The latter being the only colored man on the jury.

Three members of the family each received three months. Mrs. Ruth McCracken and Miss Ruth going to jail, and William J. McCracken, son, getting a workhouse sentence.

RAILROAD CROSSINGS TO GO

Commissioners Would Carry Out Intent of Congress.

Bill Drafted for Elimination of Certain Trackage Within the City Limits.

A bill providing for the removal of certain railroad sidings in the District of Columbia has been submitted to Congress by the Commissioners, with recommendations for favorable enactment.

With the exception of one, all these sidings were constructed by the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington Railroad Company. That one leading into square east of square 673 was constructed by the owners of that square, by act of Congress.

It was the intent of the act of Congress providing for the elimination of grade crossings and the construction of the Union Station, to eliminate all grade crossings in the city of Washington, including the main lines of the railroad company and all sidings or tracks crossing streets and connected with the main line.

The Commissioners believe the proposed bill should be enacted to relieve any doubt in the matter, to require the railroad company and all others claiming the right to maintain sidings to remove them and to protect the railroad company in doing so.

As the bill is drafted, the railroad company, the owners of square 673, and all other persons claiming the right to maintain sidings will have to remove them within ninety days after the approval of the act, and replace the pavement disturbed in laying the siding.

A penalty is provided in the sum of $5 per diem for every day of neglect or failure to comply with the provisions of the act.

Found Dead in Mission Bed.

John Fox, fifty-five years old, was found dead in his bed at the Gospel Mission, 1230 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, yesterday morning. Death was due to natural causes.

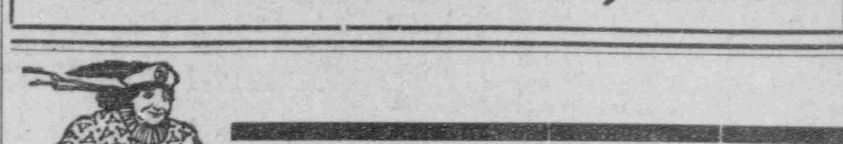

Diamonds AS AN INVESTMENT

When you consider the depreciation in stocks, and that notwithstanding the recent financial disturbances the wholesale prices of diamonds have not dropped at all, you can realize what an excellent investment they are. There is not the least likelihood of prices dropping, for the supply does not equal the demand, and we recommend them as one of the best investments that you can put your money in to-day.

We import Diamonds direct from the cutters at Amsterdam and, eliminating all middleman's profits, can offer the best values possible to obtain.
